

I am unalterably opposed to ANY interference with the ability to broadcast over public airways in any way valuable public information such as news, weather or traffic. XM or other satellite broadcasts are an important media, at least as important as AM or FM radio. I use my XM radio receiver daily and with their new information channel involving Pittsburgh weather and traffic they provide me with an important source of information.

Further, as I travel around the country by automobile, the ability to quickly get such information in major cities by dialing the 200-series stations allows me to secure such information reliably which I would not otherwise be easily able to do.
